

svasti vācaka śloka

svastiḥ prajābhyaḥ paripālayantām nyāyena mārgēṇa mahīm mahīśāḥ go brāhmamaṇebhyaḥ śubhamastu nityam samasta lokāḥ sukhino bhavantu|| (3 times)
om śāntiḥ śāntiḥ śāntiḥ||

May the common people be governed and nourished by the rulers. Let there be happiness and peace for the people. May those who rule the land, tread the path of justice.

May the knowledge and the teachers of knowledge be every well.

May all the beings be happy.

Peace, Peace, Peace – Peace to the body, mind and soul.

kṣamā prārthanā

yadakṣarapadabhraṣṭam mātrāhīnam tu yad bhavet| tatsarvam kṣamyatām deva nārāyaṇa namostute visargabindumātrāṇi padapādākṣarāṇi ca| nyūnāni cātiriktāni kṣamasva sāīśvaral aparādha sahasrāṇi kriyante'harnīsam mayā| dāso'yamiti mām matvā kṣamasva
sāyīśvaral
anyathā śaraṇam nāsti tvameva śaraṇam mama. tasmāt kāruṇya bhāvena rakṣa rakṣa sāyīśvaral
hariḥ om tatsat śrī sāyīśvarārpaṇamastul
om śāntiḥ śāntiḥ śāntiḥ||

Prostrations to you, Lord Narayana. Forgive me for all the defects in letter or phrase and for any phonetic aberration that may have occurred (in my chanting)

Forgive me, O Sayisvara for any defect in (my) pronunciation (of visarga, bindu or intonation of alphabet, word or phrase and any other mistake

O Sayisvara, considering me as your servant, forgive the thousands of errors committed by me day in and day out

You are my only refuge for there is none else. Therefore, O Sayisvara, protect me compassionately.

May this be an offering to Sree Sayisvara.